Constantly Risking Absurdity (#15)

By Lawrence Ferlinghetti

and death whenever he performs
above the heads
of his audience
the poet like an acrobat climbs on rime
to a high wire of his own making and balancing on eyebeams above a sea of faces
paces his way to the other side of day performing entrechats and sleight-of-foot tricks and other high theatrics and all without mistaking any thing for what it may not be

For he’s the super realist who must perforce perceive taut truth
before the taking of each stance or step in his supposed advance toward that still higher perch where Beauty stands and waits with gravity to start her death-defying leap

And he
a little charleychaplin man who may or may not catch her fair eternal form spreadeagled in the empty air of existence
