Envy

By Mary Lamb

This rose-tree is not made to bear
   The violet blue, nor lily fair,
   Nor the sweet mignonet:
And if this tree were discontent,
   Or wished to change its natural bent,
   It all in vain would fret.

And should it fret, you would suppose
   It ne’er had seen its own red rose,
   Nor after gentle shower
   Had ever smelled its rose’s scent,
   Or it could ne’er be discontent
   With its own pretty flower.

Like such a blind and senseless tree
   As I’ve imagined this to be,
   All envious persons are:
With care and culture all may find
   Some pretty flower in their own mind,
   Some talent that is rare.
