My sister woke me very early that morning and told me “Get up, you have to come see this the ocean’s filled with stars” Delighted by the revelation
I dressed quickly and thought
If the ocean’s filled with stars I must take the first flight and collect all of the fish from the sky

Translated from the Spanish

Source: Poetry (September 2017)