Future Memories

By Mario Meléndez
Translated by Eloisa Amezcua

My sister woke me very early that morning and told me “Get up, you have to come see this the ocean’s filled with stars” Delighted by the revelation I dressed quickly and thought If the ocean’s filled with stars I must take the first flight and collect all of the fish from the sky

Translated from the Spanish

Source: Poetry (September 2017)