

David Mason

Originally from Bellingham, Washington, David Mason currently lives outside Colorado Springs where he teaches at his alma mater, Colorado College. Mason's love for travel — he has lived in Greece and hitchhiked the British Isles — along with such tragedies as his brother's death, are major themes in his work. Also a deft essayist and critic, Mason's poetry has been collected in The Country I Remember and Arrivals.