

Lorna Dee Cervantes

Lorna Dee Cervantes is a critically acclaimed native California (Chumash-Chicana) poet.

She is the former Director of Creative Writing and an Associate Professor of English at the University of Colorado in Boulder where she has taught for 18 years. Cervantes's writing evokes and explores cultural difference—between Mexican, Anglo, Native American, and African American lives—as well as the divides of gender and economics.