

POETRY OUT LOUD®

Teacher's Guide

2022–2023

A partnership of National Endowment for the Arts and Poetry Foundation

“Everyone in the audience leaves a Poetry Out Loud event feeling deeply touched, hopeful for humanity, and heartened. And to me, that’s what poetry does for us—it humanizes us, and teenagers need to know that they have that power.”

– Naomi Shihab Nye, poet

Join the national program and bring the power of poetry to students in your community.

Note: This guide includes information on how to hold in-person Poetry Out Loud events. Please follow any federal, state, or local guidelines in regard to slowing the spread of COVID-19. For information on how to run Poetry Out Loud virtually, please visit PoetryOutLoud.org.

“My favorite thing about being a part of Poetry Out Loud is being exposed to so many new poets. Even just flipping through the website and reading all of the poems—even if I don’t end up reciting them—is such a thrilling and eye-opening experience.”

– Emily Allison, 2022 South Carolina State Champion

“I’ve enjoyed being able to recite the poems and show my interpretation using intonation, cadence, and gestures. It has also been enjoyable to see how different people interpret them and make them their own.”

– Oscar Manuel Landa Samano, 2022 Arizona State Champion

“Poetry Out Loud has gifted me a connection to talented young poets. I will forever be grateful for this competition nurturing my love of poetry and its ability to showcase humanity’s divine creativity and diversity.”

– Stella Wright, 2022 Minnesota State Champion

Why Poetry Out Loud?

Poetry Out Loud is a fun and dynamic way to introduce students to poetry.

Poetry Out Loud builds self-confidence and helps develop social and emotional maturity.

The thrill of competition encourages students to do their best and support their peers.

Poetry Out Loud creates lifelong lovers of poetry and creative writing.

Poetry Out Loud offers an opportunity for all types of students to succeed.

Poetry Out Loud is easy to implement.

Poetry Out Loud materials are completely free.

The program is flexible, can be folded into an existing curriculum, and meets NCTE, Common Core, and National Core Arts Standards.

This guide and online supplemental materials contain everything you need to teach the program successfully and conduct a contest—whether in-person or virtually.

Poetry Out Loud inspires learning.

Students improve their analytical skills through reading and interpreting a variety of poems.

Poetry Out Loud fosters confidence in students' own writing.

Students learn about literary history and contemporary life.

Poetry Out Loud can forge stronger connections between teachers and students.

Poetry Out Loud promotes creativity and success in other disciplines.

You can give students a lifelong love affair with language and the rewarding company of verse.

How Do We Get Involved?

- 1 To register for Poetry Out Loud, get in touch with your state coordinator by visiting the “State Contacts” section of poetryoutloud.org.
- 2 Once you’ve registered, invite other teachers at your school, organizers, or volunteers to participate and plan to host a competition.
- 3 Create a simple timeline that outlines your Poetry Out Loud program, including deadlines and competition dates, and then get started!

How do we bring Poetry Out Loud to students?

Poetry Out Loud is flexible and can be implemented in a variety of ways at schools or area organizations. Here are a few examples:

- Poetry Out Loud is mandatory for all ninth-grade students at a school. Classroom contests are conducted and a schoolwide contest is held at an assembly.
- Three teachers at a school bring Poetry Out Loud to their English classes. They hold individual classroom contests and then hold a schoolwide contest to determine their school winner.
- One teacher makes Poetry Out Loud optional to all their drama students to receive extra credit. This winner moves on to the next level of competition.
- A teacher, librarian, parent volunteer, or a group of students lead an after-school Poetry Out Loud club and hold a contest amongst the participating students.
- A school partners with a library or arts organization to run Poetry Out Loud at their school, either in classrooms or as an extracurricular program.
- An arts organization recruits students in the local area whose schools are not participating in Poetry Out Loud. The organization runs a competition and the winner proceeds to the next level of competition.
- A homeschool organization partners with a teaching artist to administer Poetry Out Loud for their students.

Contest Structure

Poetry Out Loud begins at the classroom/school or at the local level with an area organization. Winners then may advance to a regional and/or state competition, and ultimately to the National Finals. Awards and placements are determined solely by the judges' scores based on the Poetry Out Loud Evaluation Criteria (pages 13-16).

State Awards: Each winner at the state level will receive $200 and an all-expenses-paid trip (with an adult chaperone) to Washington, DC, to compete at the National Finals. The state winner's representing school or organization will receive $500 for poetry materials. One runner-up in each state will receive $100; their school/organization will receive $200 for the purchase of poetry materials.

National Awards: A total of $50,000 in awards and school or organizational stipends will be given at the Poetry Out Loud National Finals, including a $20,000 award for the National Champion.

Awards are offered for the official contests conducted by the state arts agencies, the Poetry Foundation, and the National Endowment for the Arts. The awards do not apply to unofficial contests. Awards will be made in the form of lump sum cash payouts, reportable to the IRS. Tax liabilities are the sole responsibility of the winners and their families. The Poetry Foundation provides and administers all aspects of the monetary prizes awarded in Poetry Out Loud as well as all travel for state champions to the National Finals.

Getting Started

1. Explore

Have students browse the poems. PoetryOutLoud.org has an online anthology of more than 1,200 poems. Allow time for the students to explore the selections. Students may choose to browse by poem, poet, or thematic collection.

Begin with a poem a day. Help students discover new poets by reading a poem. PoetryOutLoud.org has a poet of the day feature, including poems and poet biographies.

2. Understand

Ask each student to select poems to memorize. Allowing students to choose poems that resonate with them is key to helping them recite more effectively. The process of memorizing and performing helps students internalize the author's message and explore complex language and ideas. Find student videos about the selection and memorization of poems at PoetryOutLoud.org.

Discuss the poems. Understanding the text is the most important preparation for reciting poetry. If a student doesn't understand the text, neither will the audience.

Have students memorize the poems. Share these memorization tips:

- Rewrite your poem by hand several times. Each time, try to write more and more of it from memory.
- Read your poem before going to sleep at night, and repeat it when you wake up.
- Carry around a copy of your poem in your pocket or bag and find several moments throughout the day to reread or recite it.
- Practice your poem by saying it to family and friends.

3. Recite

Model recitation skills.

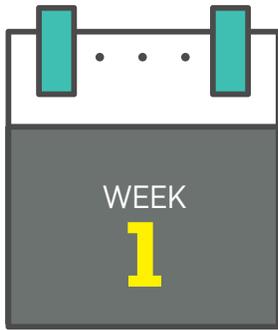

- Recite poems yourself — this is a powerful way to show students it can be done.
- With the class, develop a list of bad habits that take away from the performance, such as insufficient projection, speaking too quickly or too slowly, monotone voice, fidgeting, excessive body language, and mispronunciations.
- Then develop a list of elements of a successful recitation, such as sufficient projection, good pacing with proper pauses, voice inflection, evidence of understanding, correct pronunciation, and composure.
- Play portions of the audio and the video examples at PoetryOutLoud.org and our YouTube channel.
- Allow class time for students to practice their poems. Peers can offer constructive feedback, using the contest evaluation sheet and evaluation criteria as a guide.

4. Write

Include creative writing exercises. Creative writing is a natural complement to Poetry Out Loud. There are a number of optional writing exercises and lesson plans at PoetryOutLoud.org.

Note: Please let students know that they can request accommodations for a disability. Teachers and organizers may refer to the Accessibility page on PoetryOutLoud.org for more information or contact their state coordinator for further assistance.

Sample Schedule

Students explore the anthology and choose poems to memorize.

Read and discuss some of the poems as a group.

Model effective and ineffective recitation practices.

Have students practice their poems with different partners each day.

Students should have their poems completely memorized by the end of the week.

Hold practice contests.
Break up the students into groups. Have one student at a time perform for the rest of the group, who act as judges. Encourage discussion about how the student interpreted and presented the poem.

Implement the lesson plans and writing exercises.

Teachers and organizers may offer a more complete poetry unit by using the lesson plans provided at PoetryOutLoud.org.

Hold the contest at the end of the week.

Keep in mind that it takes an average of four or five minutes to recite a poem and judge the recitation. Organizers should structure the contest in a way that best fits their schedules.

Hold the schoolwide recitation contest, if applicable, at the end of the week.

Winners of the classroom contests will prepare two or three poems for recitation and will compete in the schoolwide competition at the end of this week. Ideally, the schoolwide competition will take place at a public venue, whether in-person or online, thus enhancing the entire student body's exposure to poetry and giving the contestants a larger audience.

The Contest

A Poetry Out Loud contest may be conducted in-person or virtually. For more guidance on how to conduct a virtual contest, please visit PoetryOutLoud.org.

Lead Organizer(s)

We recommend that each school or organization to identify one or two leaders to serve as the Poetry Out Loud coordinators. Lead organizers will recruit needed participants and staff, distribute materials, organize events, and keep in touch with the state Poetry Out Loud coordinator.

Contest Rounds

State and national finals consist of three rounds of competition. Competitions at lower levels may have fewer rounds, but students must recite only one poem in each round. For instance, we recommend classroom and smaller organization contests have students recite at least one poem; for schoolwide and larger organization contests, we recommend students recite at least two poems.

Poem Selection

Eligible poems are available at PoetryOutLoud.org.

Students must provide the titles and authors of their poems and the order in which they will be recited in advance to the contest coordinator. Students may not change their poem selections or order once they have been submitted.

Introducing and Reciting the Poem

Competitors will recite each poem once individually. The emcee should introduce students as they come to the stage to recite. It is the student's job to identify the poem by accurately announcing both the title and the author, and, if necessary, the translator. (For example, "Where did the handsome beloved go?" by Jalal al-Din Rumi translated by Brad Gooch.)

- A student's own editorial comments before or after the poem are not allowed.
- Epigraphs included with the poem in the Poetry Out Loud anthology should be recited, and their omission will affect the accuracy score.
- Footnotes included with the poem in the Poetry Out Loud anthology should not be recited, and their inclusion will affect the accuracy score.
- Stanza numbers and dedications included with the original poem are optional, and their inclusion or omission should not affect the accuracy score.
- Students must include the name of the translator, if applicable.
- The poem must be delivered from memory.

Contest Venue

Classroom contests can be held during class periods; organization contests can be held during a regular meeting time with students. Reserve a school theater, auditorium, or other appropriate venue for a schoolwide competition. The ideal setting will have a stage and theater-style seating. Depending on the size of the venue, amplification may be appropriate.

Staffing the Competition

At the schoolwide or larger organization competition, you will need volunteers to serve in a variety of roles:

Coordinator (1 or 2). The lead organizers(s) may be best suited for this role. The coordinator will ensure that the event runs smoothly, all volunteers are present, judges are briefed before the event, and scoring is accurate.

Emcee (1). An emcee will guide the competition from start to finish, providing welcoming remarks, introducing judges and students, and announcing winners.

Judges (3–5), accuracy judge (1). See page 10 of this Teacher’s Guide for advice on selecting and preparing judges.

Prompter (1). It is important to have someone following along with the recitations, ready to prompt a student who may get stuck on a line. Prepare a notebook or PDF with a large-font copy of each poem, in the order of recitation, for the prompter. Seat the prompter in the center of the front row, and have them follow along with the text as each student recites. Show the students where the prompter is sitting before the contest begins so they know where to look if they get lost during their recitation. If a competitor is stuck for several seconds and looks to the prompter for help, the prompter may provide the next few words of the poem to get that student back on track.

Score tabulator (1–2). While the competition is taking place, someone should input the judges’ scores in a database so that no time is wasted totaling scores after the recitations are finished. An Excel spreadsheet works well for this purpose. A template is available at PoetryOutLoud.org. It may be helpful for the tabulator to have an assistant collect the contest evaluation sheets. Remember to test your tabulation system before the event.

You can scale the competition to your needs

Judging

LOCAL LEVELS

For a classroom or small organization-level contest, the teacher or lead organizer can serve as the sole judge.

For a school-level contest, three judges should be sufficient — a group of teachers may serve as judges, or you may invite some community members to judge the contest. Appropriate judges might be local poets, actors, professors, arts reporters, or members of the school board. Judges should have some knowledge of poetry, although they need not be experts. Be sensitive to conflicts of interest — actual or perceived — with your judging panel. Make sure to choose judges who will conscientiously prepare for their roles in advance.

Preparing the Judges

- Send the judges the students' poems ahead of time, so they are familiar with them and can consider students' poem choice in regards to range and complexity. No judge other than the accuracy judge should be following along with the text during recitations.
- Send them a copy of the Judge's Guide, available at PoetryOutLoud.org, and ask them to review fully in advance.
- Invite them to ask questions. Encourage them to watch the archived Poetry Out Loud judge training webinar at PoetryOutLoud.org.
- Encourage them to view the video examples of student recitations on the Poetry Out Loud website and the Poetry Out Loud YouTube channel; they should practice scoring these before the competition.
- Although they will score individually during the competition, it is useful to have judges discuss their scores in orientation practice rounds.
- During an in-person competition, separate the judges a bit from the rest of the audience so they are not distracted. Judges should not have any interaction with the contestants or the audience until after the competition.
- Judges must not convene to discuss their scores. They should rate recitations individually and then immediately turn in their evaluation sheets. This practice not only keeps the contest moving, but also ensures that judges are scoring independently, based on merit only. Notify judges that they will not be able to revisit scores after they turn them in.

Accuracy Judge

Assign a separate person to serve as an accuracy judge. The accuracy judge will mark missed or incorrect words during the recitation. The accuracy score sheet can be found on page 19, and also can be downloaded from PoetryOutLoud.org. Make sure to prepare accuracy score sheets before the contest, and fill in the names of the participants and the titles of the poems they will recite. Have these in order of recitation before the competition and give a set to the accuracy judge, along with a notebook or PDF with large-font text of each poem, in the order of recitation, so they may follow the recitations.

Scoring

A copy of the Poetry Out Loud contest evaluation sheet may be downloaded at PoetryOutLoud.org. Prepare the contest evaluation sheets before the school contest by filling in the names of the participants and the titles of the poems they will recite. Have these in recitation order before the competition, with one set for each judge.

At in-person contests, the score tabulator or an assistant will collect the completed contest evaluation sheets after each recitation. The accuracy judge's score will be added to each evaluation sheet as scores are tabulated. Scoring is cumulative; the scores from each round should be totaled to determine the winner.

“I feel that a lot of assumptions are made about certain social groups in high school, especially with labeling an individual as a ‘cheerleader,’ ‘jock,’ or ‘brainiac.’ I was honestly surprised, though, by the diversity of people in my school’s Poetry Out Loud competition. My fellow track and field teammates, classmates, jocks, and some shy individuals had amazing talents to share!”

– Analisa Ibarra, 2022 New Mexico State Champion

“I love the voice that Poetry Out Loud gives me to share important ideas with my peers. There’s never a perfect way to word the nuances of good and bad in our world, but poetry turns important messages into a beautiful art form. It hits us all that much more powerfully.”

- Lila Ward, 2022 Indiana State Champion

“What I’ve enjoyed most about participating in Poetry Out Loud is learning that there are so many poems that connect to my true feelings.”

- Trayshun Holmes-Gournaris, 2022 Oregon State Champion

“Poetry Out Loud has helped me make new friends, build a poetry community in my own high school, and come to understand myself better than I ever have before.”

- Aeva Dye, 2022 Utah State Champion

Evaluation Criteria and Tips for Contestants

For video examples of these tips, go to the Poetry Out Loud YouTube page.

Physical Presence

This category evaluates the physical nature of the recitation. Consider the student's stage presence, body language, and composure.

ADVICE FOR THE STUDENT:

- Present yourself well and be attentive. Use good posture. Be confident and make a direct connection with the audience.
- Nervous gestures and lack of confidence will detract from your score.
- Relax and be natural. Enjoy your poem; the judges will notice.

QUALITIES OF A STRONG RECITATION:

The student appears at ease and comfortable with the audience. They engage the audience through physical presence, including appropriate body language and confidence. All qualities of the student's physical presence work together to the benefit of the poem.

Voice and Articulation

This category evaluates the student's delivery and clarity of the recitation. Consider the student's projection, pace, rhythm, intonation, and proper pronunciation.

ADVICE FOR THE STUDENT:

- Project to the audience. You want to capture the attention of everyone, including the people in the back row. However, do not mistake shouting for good volume or projection.
- Proceed at a fitting and natural pace. People may speak too quickly when they are nervous, which can make a recitation difficult to understand. Do not speak so slowly that the language sounds awkward or unnatural.
- With rhymed poems, be careful not to recite in a sing-song manner.
- Make sure you know how to pronounce every word in your poem. Articulate.
- Line breaks are a defining feature of poetry, with each one calling for different treatment. Decide whether a break requires a pause and, if so, how long to pause.

QUALITIES OF A STRONG RECITATION:

All words are pronounced correctly, and the projection, rhythm, and intonation greatly enhance the recitation. Pacing is appropriate to the poem.

“I have personally enjoyed all the support that I have received from my teachers, peers, and school. They have been an immense help in guiding me through the entire process. I actually thought of myself as a ‘mediocre’ or ‘average’ poetry reciter... however, they gave me hope and assurance. This inspired me to go beyond and further compete and I am very grateful for their encouragement.”

– Zekiya Sage N. Mapilisan, 2022 Guam Champion

Dramatic Appropriateness

This category evaluates the interpretive and performance choices made by the student. Recitation is about conveying a poem’s sense through its language. This is a challenging task, but a strong performance must rely on a powerful internalization of the poem rather than excessive gestures or unnecessary emoting. Appropriate interpretation enhances the audience’s understanding and enjoyment of the poem without overshadowing the poem’s language. The Learning Recitation videos at PoetryOutLoud.org will help illustrate this point.

ADVICE FOR THE STUDENT:

- Movement must not detract from the poem’s voice.
- You are the vessel of your poem. Have confidence that your poem is strong enough to communicate its sounds and messages without a physical illustration. Let the words of the poem do the work.
- Depending on the poem, occasional gestures may be appropriate, but the line between appropriate and overdone is a thin one. When uncertain, leave them out.
- Avoid monotone delivery. If you sound bored, you will project that boredom to the audience. However, too much enthusiasm can make your performance seem insincere.

QUALITIES OF A STRONG RECITATION:

The interpretation subtly underscores the meaning of the poem without becoming the focal point of the recitation. A low score in this category will result from recitations that have affected accents and character voices, inappropriate tone and inflection, singing, excessive gestures, or unnecessary emoting.

Evidence of Understanding

This category evaluates the student's comprehension of a poem. The poet's words should take precedence, and the student who understands the poem best will be able to voice it in a way that helps the audience to understand the poem better. To do this, a student must effectively use intonation, emphasis, tone, and style of delivery.

ADVICE FOR THE STUDENT:

- In order for the audience to understand the poem fully, you must understand the poem fully.
- Be attentive to the messages, meanings, allusions, irony, tones of voice, and other nuances in your poem.
- Be sure you know the meaning of every word and line in your poem. If you are unsure about something, it will be apparent to the audience and judges. Don't hesitate to ask your teacher or coach for help.
- Think about how you should interpret the tone and voice of your poem. Is it a quiet poem? Is it a boisterous poem? Should it be recited more quickly or slowly, with a happy or mournful tone? Your interpretation will be different for each poem, and it is a crucial element of your performance.

QUALITIES OF A STRONG RECITATION:

The meaning of the poem is powerfully and clearly conveyed to the audience. The student displays an interpretation that deepens and enlivens the poem. Meaning, messages, allusions, irony, tone, and other nuances are captured by the performance. A low score is awarded if the interpretation obscures the meaning of the poem.

“What I’ve enjoyed most about participating in Poetry Out Loud is being surrounded by other performers and poets who love poetry as much as I do. It was like stepping into a community who understood me so well.”

– Niveah Glover, 2022 Florida State Champion

Overall Performance

This category evaluates the overall success of the performance, the degree to which the recitation has become more than the sum of its parts. Has the student captivated the audience with the language of the poem? Did the student bring the audience to a better understanding of the poem? Did the recitation honor the poem?

Judges should also consider the range of a student's recitations with this score; a student is less likely to score well in overall performance when judges note that a student's style of interpretation remains the same regardless of poem choice. In addition to range, judges should consider the complexity of the poem, which is a combination of its content, language, and length. A low score will be awarded for recitations that are poorly presented, ineffective in conveying the meaning of the poem, or conveyed in a manner inappropriate to the poem.

ADVICE FOR THE STUDENT:

- For competitions beyond the classroom level, select poems of various styles, time periods, complexities, themes, and tones. When considering the range and complexity of your poems, remember that a longer poem is not necessarily a more difficult one.
- Make sure each poem you choose is one that speaks to you. If you are able to connect with a poem, that internalization will ripple positively throughout all of your scores.

Accuracy

A separate judge will mark missed or incorrect words during the recitation, with deductions for each. If the contestant relies on the prompter, points also will be subtracted from the accuracy score from each judge. Eight points will be added to each judge's contest evaluation sheet for a perfectly accurate recitation.

NOTE: OVERALL PERFORMANCE AND ACCURACY ARE WEIGHTED SLIGHTLY MORE THAN OTHER CRITERIA.

Second Place winner

Publicity Tips

Since 2005, Poetry Out Loud has reached more than 4.1 million students and 68,000 teachers from 17,000 schools and organizations nationwide. Poetry Out Loud is a great way to raise school spirit and generate positive visibility for your school or organization. Here are some simple ways to increase awareness of Poetry Out Loud, and share your students' achievements with the community at large.

- Publicize the schoolwide competition on the school website and in the student newspaper.
- Announce classroom winners and the schoolwide competition in the daily PA broadcast or at assemblies.
- Include a “poem-a-day” poetry recitation in the daily PA broadcast or at assemblies.
- Remember to use the Poetry Out Loud hashtags—#POL23 and #IAmPoetryOutLoud—to be part of the larger conversation about Poetry Out Loud throughout the school year.
- Use your school’s or organization’s social media accounts to share information about your Poetry Out Loud program.
- If your school allows video sharing websites such as YouTube, use them to highlight videos that complement Poetry Out Loud learning objectives.
- Invite a prominent member of the community or local media to serve as a judge or emcee for the schoolwide competition.
- Use the PR toolkit found at PoetryOutLoud.org for additional tips and sample press materials to share information about your competition.

Poetry Out Loud is more than a contest and a performance. Poetry gives students clarity about their own lives.

FINAL SCORE: _____ (MAXIMUM OF 41 POINTS)

Accuracy Score Sheet

NAME OF STUDENT _____

TITLE OF POEM _____

Maximum Score 8 points

Inaccuracy Deduction (subtract) - _____ points

Prompt Deduction (subtract) - _____ points

FINAL ACCURACY SCORE _____ points*

*Lowest possible score is 1 point

Minor inaccuracies, resulting in a 1 point deduction per occurrence, include:

- Confusing a pronoun (“he” instead of “she”)
- Confusing an article (“a” instead of “the”)
- Pluralizing a word or vice versa (“horses” instead of “horse”)
- Replacing a word with a similar word (“jump” instead of “leap”)
- Omitting the poem title
- Omitting the author
- Omitting the translator
- Confusing the order of words (“hops and skips” instead of “skips and hops”)
- Skipping a word
- Repeating a word
- Adding a word

Major inaccuracies, resulting in larger deductions per occurrence, include:

- One line out of order -2 points
- Repeating a line -2 points
- Omitting an epigraph -2 points
- Including a footnote -2 points
- Skipping 1 line/skipping 3 or more words in the same line -3 points
- Reversing 2 stanzas -5 points
- Skipping 1 stanza -6 points

Use of prompter: Each time a student uses the prompter, 3 points will be deducted from the final accuracy score.

The inclusion or omission of stanza numbers or dedications should not affect scoring. Likewise, the addition of a student introducing themselves by stating their name, state, and/or school at the beginning of a recitation, or the inclusion of a “thank you” at the end of the recitation, while discouraged, should not affect the accuracy score.

ACCURACY JUDGE: Follow along with the text of the poem as the competitor recites. Mark the text each time there is an error in accuracy. You should mark all minor inaccuracies the same (since each is worth a 1 point deduction), and flag the bigger mistakes differently. Be consistent. After the recitation, use the guidance below to assign a point deduction to each mistake. To get the final accuracy score, count up the point deductions, and subtract them from the maximum score of 8 points. Remember that the accuracy score is added to the contest evaluation sheet of each judge.

Example: If the competitor repeated a word (-1 point), confused an article (-1 point), and skipped one line (-3 points), that would be 5 points subtracted from the maximum score of 8. The final accuracy score would be 3 points.

Rules

Only those who registered with their state Poetry Out Loud coordinator are eligible for the official competition.

Student Eligibility

- Grade Level: Only currently enrolled students in grades 9-12 are eligible, with an exception made for 8th-grade students participating in a 9th- through 12th-grade class.
- State Finals: A student may not advance to the state finals without competing in a lower-level competition.
- Legal Participation Requirements: No student may be excluded from participating in Poetry Out Loud on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability, or national origin. Schools may determine eligibility for classroom and school level Poetry Out Loud programming pursuant to local and state law.
- Prize Requirements: The Poetry Foundation provides and administers all aspects of the monetary prizes awarded in Poetry Out Loud. State champions and runners up will need a valid tax identification number or social security number at the time that monetary prizes are issued by the Poetry Foundation. Prizes are not transferable.
- Travel and Accommodations Requirements: The Poetry Foundation provides and administers all aspects of the travel for State Champions to the Poetry Out Loud National Finals. State Champions (or their legal guardians) and their chaperones must complete the Poetry Foundation's Poetry Out Loud Attestation Form and submit it to the Poetry Foundation. If you are unable to submit the completed Attestation Form, the Poetry Foundation will be unable to provide any travel and accommodations for the Poetry Out Loud National Finals.
- Homeschooled Students: Homeschooled students may participate by competing in a contest at a local school (at the school's discretion) or with other local homeschooled students. Contact your state coordinator for specific guidelines.
- School Not Participating? Students unable to participate at a local school should contact their state Poetry Out Loud coordinator to discuss other opportunities for inclusion in the state's official competition.
- Repeat Champions: National Champions are ineligible to compete in subsequent years even if they are still in grades 9-12.
- Relatives: Avoiding any potential conflicts of interest (or the appearance of conflicts of interest) helps to preserve the integrity of the contest and make it fair for all students. Relatives* of national organizers (National Endowment for the Arts and the Poetry Foundation) may compete in school, local, regional, and state competitions, but are not eligible to advance to National Finals. Relatives* of State Art Agency Coordinators or affiliated contractors and sponsors may not compete past the school level in that particular state.

* Relatives for this age group are defined as child, sibling, or any member of the employee's household.

Poem Eligibility

- Poem Anthology: All poems must be selected from the Poetry Out Loud print or online anthology, which is updated every summer. Check PoetryOutLoud.org after September 1, 2022, to view the official Poetry Out Loud anthology for the current school year. Only versions of poems from the official anthology may be used in the contest.
- Can't Find a Poem? Poems may be removed from the online anthology before September 1, 2022. These poems are no longer eligible for competition. However, any poem in the printed anthology is eligible even if it is not online.
- Poem Criteria: At the state and national finals, students must have three poems prepared. One must be 25 lines or fewer, and one must be written before the 20th century. One poem may be used to meet both criteria, and may be the student's third poem.

Competition

- Contest Participants: Poetry Out Loud competitions must have at least two students to select a winner. If the winner is unable to attend the next level of competition, the runner-up should be sent.
- Evaluation: Students must be judged according to the Poetry Out Loud evaluation criteria (pages 13–16).
- Rounds: State and national finals consist of three rounds of competition. Competitions at lower levels may have fewer rounds, but students must recite only one poem in each round.
- Poem Order: The order in which the poems are recited is up to the student, but poem order may not be switched once submitted to the competition organizer. Competition organizers may not dictate poem order.
- Judging: Rankings are based solely on the official Poetry Out Loud evaluation sheets submitted by judges. Judges should not convene to discuss performances during the competition. Judges may not reconsider their scores after they are submitted. Judges' decisions are final.
- Scoring: Scoring is cumulative. The scores from all rounds should be added together to determine the winner.
- Ties: In the event of a tie, the tied student with the highest overall performance score should win; if that also results in a tie, look to the highest accuracy score. If scores remain tied, consider having students pick one poem to recite again as a separate score to break the tie.
- Memorization: Students must recite their poems from memory.
- Props: Students may not use props or wear costumes during their recitations.

NCTE English Language Arts Standards

Poetry Out Loud fulfills the following NCTE Standards: 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 11, 12.

Teachers who make use of the optional writing activities and lesson plans found at PoetryOutLoud.org will also satisfy Standard #5.

1. Students read a wide range of print and non-print texts to build an understanding of texts, of themselves, and of the cultures of the United States and the world; to acquire new information; to respond to the needs and demands of society and the workplace; and for personal fulfillment. Among these texts are fiction and nonfiction, classic and contemporary works.
2. Students read a wide range of literature from many periods in many genres to build an understanding of the many dimensions (e.g., philosophical, ethical, aesthetic) of human experience.
3. Students apply a wide range of strategies to comprehend, interpret, evaluate, and appreciate texts. They draw on their prior experience, their interactions with other readers and writers, their knowledge of word meaning and of other texts, their word identification strategies, and their understanding of textual features (e.g., sound-letter correspondence, sentence structure, context, graphics).
4. Students adjust their use of spoken, written, and visual language (e.g., conventions, style, vocabulary) to communicate effectively with a variety of audiences and for different purposes.
5. Students employ a wide range of strategies as they write and use different writing process elements appropriately to communicate with different audiences for a variety of purposes.
6. Students apply knowledge of language structure, language conventions (e.g., spelling and punctuation), media techniques, figurative language, and genre to create, critique, and discuss print and non-print texts.
7. Students conduct research on issues and interests by generating ideas and questions, and by posing problems. They gather, evaluate, and synthesize data from a variety of sources (e.g., print and non-print texts, artifacts, people) to communicate their discoveries in ways that suit their purpose and audience.
8. Students use a variety of technological and information resources (e.g., libraries, databases, computer networks, video) to gather and synthesize information and to create and communicate knowledge.
9. Students develop an understanding of and respect for diversity in language use, patterns, and dialects across cultures, ethnic groups, geographic regions, and social roles.
10. Students whose first language is not English make use of their first language to develop competency in the English language arts and to develop understanding of content across the curriculum.
11. Students participate as knowledgeable, reflective, creative, and critical members of a variety of literacy communities.
12. Students use spoken, written, and visual language to accomplish their own purposes (e.g., for learning, enjoyment, persuasion, and the exchange of information).

being named the 2022
Poetry Out Loud
National Champion

“Performing a piece of writing can kind of connect you to it, to the text and to the poet themselves. You just can’t get the same understanding from reading a poem, no matter how many times you do, as you can from when you bring it to life.”

– Mia Ronn, 2022 Poetry Out Loud National Champion and California State Champion
